

SUNDOWN SHADOWS

SONG

WORDS & MUSIC

BY

ERNEST H. DAINTY

PRICE 50 CENTS

HEINTZMAN & CO., LIMITED
195 YONGE STREET
TORONTO

Sundown Shadows

As sundown shadows wearily falling
Herald the slumber hour,
For thee as twilight mem'ries are calling
I breathe an evening prayer.

REFRAIN:—

God rest thee, dearest one,
While the pale moon is beaming;
And, with the rising sun,
Happy wake thee from thy dreaming.
God guide thee thro' the day,
Drive all thy cares away;
Protect forever and for aye,
My love, my life, beloved one.

When lonely days of wand'ring are done,
When heartaches and yearnings cease,
By thy dear side I'll sing love's sweet song,
In thy loving arms find peace.

—Ernest H. Dainty

512

Words and Music by
ERNEST H. DAINTY

Moderato quasi Andante e legato

As sun - down sha - dows wear - i - ly fal - ling
When lone - ly days of wand - 'ring are done When

p

Her - ald the slum - ber hour
heart - aches and yearn - ings cease

Copyright U.S.A. MCMXXVIII by Ernest H. Dainty
International Copyright Secured

For thee as twi - light mem - 'ries are cal - ling
By thy dear side I'll sing love's sweet song —

I breathe an eve - ning prayer
In thy lov - ing arms find peace —

REFRAIN

God rest thee dear - est one While the pale moon is beam - ing And with the ris - ing sun

Hap-py wake thee from thy dream - ing God guide thee

thro' the day, Drive all thy cares a - way

Pro-tect for - ev - er and for aye My love my life be-lov - ed

one. love my life be - lov - ed one.

81762